BOY TURNS ON THE GAS

Then Goes To Sleep.-Open window Saves His Life on Wednesday Night

EDWARD MACCLIN

Edward Macclin, a boy of six years, who has a nice cosy room at the lodging house of William Jackson on Daniel street, was the innocent cause of no small amount of excitement to the inmates of the dwelling on Wednesday night and the reason that Eddie is alive today is due to an open window, and the good fresh air.

The boy was put to bed at his regular hour by his mother, and instead of going to sleep he began to amuse himself with the gas, by lighting and extinguishing the same, as long as the matches held out.

The child in his playful pranks, had lots of fun by himself, but finally ran out of the sticks that communicated fire and hopped into his dreaming bag for the remainder of the night.

Forgets the Gas

In his hunt for matches he forgot to turn off the gas, and was soon in dreamland with the illuminating fluid pouring out in the room full speed.

It was not long before the boarders in the other rooms began to sniff the fumes, and at once got busy investigating.

The proprietor of the house by this time arrived on the scene and was not long in locating the trouble. He rushed into the room of the boy, and Eddie was never hustled out of his little bed in such quick time in his life before.

Mr. Jackson, upon investigating, found the gas blowing freely and the burnt matches scattered around the floor of the room.

The little fellow had begun to show slight effects of the inhalation, but he soon washed himself again.

The window close to his bed was fully opened, which allowed the gas to escape from the room, thus saving the life of the lad.

WILLIAM E. CHANDLER SPOKE

Made One of His Campaign Addresses at Laconia

Laconia, Aug. 18.—Hon. William E. Chandler made his first speech of the present political campaign in New Hampshire in this city Wednesday evening, warmly advocating the nomination as the republican gubernatorial candidate of Robert P. Bass of Peterboro.

Mr. Bass himself spoke and Winston Churchill scored the convention system in favor of direct primaries.

"There is no government absolutely free in New Hampshire," declared Mr. Chandler in his address. "Railroad passes and railroad money," he continued, "dominate the state, and the governors, councilors, senators and representatives are mere agents in their offices of the two great railroads."

"It may truthfully be said that nearly all the lawyers in the state are retained by one or the other railroad company, either by annual passes alone or by such passes and money."

American Express Company Reissues Franks to Employees

Nearly a year ago the American Express company issued an order that franks in the hands of the employees be cancelled and the same taken up by the management. This plan was not pleasing to the men on the pay rolls and it is said they have since been at work quietly to have the favor restored, with the result that the franks will be reissued and the men will again be allowed the free transportation of personal property or that of their family over the company's lines.

The company has also directed that its managers accept free all goods that may be consigned to the stores at Campbellton.

HOLDUP MEN IN BOSTON

Cornelius Driscoll of No. 26 Michtigan avenue, Dorchester, was the victim of five young men who held him up on Blue Hill avenue, near Franklin park and robbed him of $13 and some small change, every cent he had. Driscoll was on his way home when he says he was accosted by the gang who demanded that he give up his money. He says he offered no resistance, and turned his money over to them. They then ran off. Driscoll was not assaulted.

The Latest Declarations of Candidates

Ex-Governor Floyd Calls in the Town

Exeter, Aug. 18.—It is probable that most of the county candidates have already declared themselves. The latest local declarations are John A. Glasser and Prof. James A. Tufts as delegates to the state convention of the Republican party, and John H. Eikins as Democratic candidate for the nomination for register of probate.

An improved piece of concrete sidewalk extending from Weeks & Seward's drug store to McRea's coal office a distance of about sixty yards, has recently been completed by Highway Agent Newell S. Tilton the work having been in progress for two weeks. The macadamized street has not been completed, but preparations have been in progress for some time past. The Electric company has adjusted the rails of the street railway in readiness and a force of workmen are yet on the work. The new sidewalk remedies a dangerous part in front of Weeks and Seward's drug store where there was a difference in the elevations in the meeting of two pieces of sidewalks, and many falls were taken there by pedestrians during icy weather.

The first political rally of the campaign will be held Monday evening, Aug. 22, when Senator Robert P. Bass of Peterborough, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will address Exeter citizens at the town hall at 8 o'clock in the evening. Other speakers will be Allen Hollis of Concord and Prof. James A. Tufts of Exeter.

Another chapter in political life was opened here on Wednesday by the visit of former Governor Charles M. Floyd of Manchester, who was accompanied by Col. Thomas R. Varick and Col. William B. Marcotte, both of the Queen city, the latter being a candidate for councilor. They made the trip from Manchester by automobile, and visited the different political clubs here. Calls were made at the office of Eastman, Scammon and Gardner, and on Albert S. Wetherell and others. They also paid visits to some of the other surrounding towns on their way here.

Miss Adeline Clare and sister, Mrs. James Walsh, both of Chicago, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Arthur H. Read at the Squamscot for the greater part of the time since July 19, returned to their homes on Wednesday. A pleasant social gathering was held in the parlors of the Squamscot Tuesday evening, several guests being invited, and the evening was spent in music and social intercourse.

Richard E. Shute is spending a vacation at Newfound lake.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Laura M. Rowell on Linden street.

HAMPTON BEACH

Three important outings were scheduled for this week at Hampton Beach, which is securing its share of excursions this season. Each of these events will be participated in by a large delegation of members from various sections. Tuesday was held the annual outing of the members of the Order of the Eastern Star of Epping, a large contingent of members enjoying the trip to the beach. Headquarters were made at the Casino, where a shore dinner was served, after which the time was passed in an informal manner. Bathing was a popular diversion, and many attended the theatrical performance.

Thursday, Aug. 18 is Ladies' day for the Rockingham county Republican club.

On Saturday the Junior O. U. A. M. of Plaistow and Newton will hold an outing here, making the trip in special cars over electric lines. A feature of the day will be a baseball game played on the Casino oval between the nine from the two towns. A basket collection will be discussed at noon, and the remainder of the day will be passed in visiting places of interest and in various other ways.

On Wednesday, Aug. 24, Haverhill day will be observed at this resort, and it is expected that the occasion will rank second only to "Farmers' day" in point of numbers and in general popularity. The occasion is the annual outing of the Haverhill Grocers' and Provision Dealers' association, and special cars will be utilized in providing transportation. Dinner will be supplied at the various hotels.

CANNONISM ALSO AN ISSUE IN NEW ENGLAND

Just as Congressman Sulloway of New Hampshire is proclaiming unbounded confidence in himself and in the entire standpat aggregation, the editor of the Rochester Courier stretches Cannonism across the road and trips the congressman, reminding him of his unpopular attitude on the question of the Appalachian forest reserve measure and of his all-around objection to Cannonism. The editor asks the congressman:

"Do you still maintain your opinion that the Speaker of the House should have absolute power to prevent any legislation which he deems undesirable from ever reaching a vote in the House? Do you now favor an extension of the principle of liberty in the House rules? Do you favor taking away the power of appointing committees from the Speaker?"

"Do you favor the re-election of Mr. Cannon as Speaker of the House, and if you are nominated and elected, shall you vote for him?"

Mr. Sulloway has the floor. So have all the other New England congressmen who have turned their backs on popular issues and stood by Cannon and his unpopular regime. —Boston Journal, Republican, Sunday Aug. 14, 1910.

HERBERT E. DUNNINGTON,
360 Manchester St., Manchester.

In the afternoon there will be a full list of sporting events which will take place in front of the Casino. A large committee is working to make the event a success. The festivities of the day will be brought to a close with a grand display of fireworks on the beach front in the evening at the close of the theatrical attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis and family of Amesbury, Mass., are domiciled at the Kendall cottage.

John Sullivan of Manchester is enjoying a vacation season with family and friends at the Hill-Crest Inn, where the time is being pleasantly passed.

At many of the houses it is impossible to secure accommodations and guests are being steadily turned away. Hampton beach has this season attained a popularity quite unprecedented, and those who are prominent in hotel life here anticipate a most successful future for this resort, which is the most popular of the New Hampshire coast resorts.

The Rev. Charles L. Merriam, pastor of the Central church in Derry, has been a recent visitor at the summer home of Mrs. J. W. M. Worledge of Windham on Great Bear's Head.

Miss Helen Mitchell of Concord is entertaining as her guest Miss Doris T. Kimball of Manchester at her summer home here.

Miss Minnie Sullivan of Manchester is enjoying a few days of vacation life at the Hill-Crest Inn.

E. W. Bailey of Concord is included among the vacationists here for a short sojourn.

SHORTAGES $100,000

YORK COUNTY SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITORS SAFE.

Biddeford, Me., Aug. 17.—Depositors in the York county savings bank, which was closed last Friday by order of the state bank examiner, because of a shortage in the accounts of Treasurer Richmond H. Ingersoll through irregularities alleged to have been committed a quarter of a century ago, were elated today upon reading the statement quoting a man in a position to know the bank's affairs, although not connected with it, as saying that the shortage would not go much above $100,000.

Many of the depositors whose earnings of a life-time as mill workers, had been accumulating in the bank were much relieved, and in most cases will retain their accounts until the bank is reopened rather than dispose of them at a discount of from 16 to 40 percent as has been done in a number of instances.

The passbooks were coming in fast today from all parts of York county and they are being handled by a large force of clerks. Many are arriving by mail.

Treasurer Ingersoll was about the same today, resting comfortably, and will recover.

THE PLAYGROUNDS

Wednesday afternoon there was an athletic meet at the playgrounds for boys and girls under fourteen years of age, and all of the events had big entries and were closely contested.

NEW CASTLE NEWS

Tribute to the Memory of Captain Tarlton

Life Saving Superintendent on a Trip Down South

New Castle, Aug. 18. Captain Elias Tarlton's friends and old time associates were saddened when it was borne to their ears on Monday evening that the life of this grand old man had returned to God who gave it. Born in the island town the life of the one gone beyond has been passed in his native town. Of a gentle and retiring disposition, he won friends to keep them, and his later years of peculiar suffering, in which he exhibited unusual courage and fortitude, endeared him to all who knew him. In the passing of this dear old moss-grown angel it removes the last captain who made yearly trips for a quarter of a century to the Grand Banks. His quiet, unassuming life, has been as a benediction to all who have brushed elbows with him in the daily walks of life. It can truly be said of this octogenarian that he has been gathered in at a good old age to the assemblage of the righteous.

Mr. Forrest Becker, who has been working in Boston, is the guest of his parents.

Superintendent Silas H. Harding left today for a several weeks' sojourn in the South, Maryland being his first objective.

Mr. Daniel Bickford and daughter, Ella, of South Boston, are stopping at the Becker cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stuart of Stonington, Me., are the guests of Ephraim Rich and family.

Master Gunner Carl Tate and wife are pleasantly located in the Poole cottage.

Miss Helen Langdon of Portsmouth is at the Bickford cottage.

Mr. Chester Becker is enjoying his annual vacation from his duties at the navy yard.

Mr. Albert Prescott of Boston is the guest of Fables Robinson and family.

Mrs. Sara Pittman and children of Chelsea are visiting relatives.

Mrs. Isabelle Wheeler, who has been the guest of Oliver B. Marvin and family, has returned to her home in Portsmouth.

Mrs. Fannie Harding is the guest of friends at Cape Cod.

Mrs. Simeon C. Flanders left on Tuesday for a several weeks' sojourn in Alton.

The select dancing party given in Pythian hall Wednesday evening by Gupitt and Goseboom was a most decided success, both socially and financially. Their next will be most pleasantly anticipated.

Miss Alice Larkin is passing a brief sojourn in Boston.

Mrs. Minnie Robinson and children of Springfield is the guest of relatives.

The island town responded on tag day with genuine American generosity to the tune of almost fifty dollars. A neat little sum for the size of the small town. To any or all that contributed their mite for this worthy institution I breathe this wish that You may never have to be carried in to it.

The Modern Figure

How to Regain Beauty of Form

The vagaries of Fashion are a great trial to ladies inclined to stoutness; but it is a great mistake to go in for physical repression in the shape of special stays. Fastening and violent exercising are also dangerous. One very soon becomes limp, depressed and sallow of complexion when such methods of getting thin are adopted. There is absolutely no necessity to study dietetics or deprive one's self of whole some rest and bodily comforts.

The following is a prescription which will restore beauty of form without any sacrifice of health or strength. Any druggist will make it up for you or supply the harmless ingredients, viz: 1-2 oz. Marmola, 1-2 oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 3-4 oz. Peppermint Water. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Don't be afraid of a good appetite, especially as the digestive system will be much benefited by this simple treatment. Indeed, the whole body is beautified, and the reduction of weight occasions no wrinkles. The skin and complexion are rebeautified.

Portsmouth for the past three weeks, wishes the people to know, that he has secured a hall at No. 33 Congress street, now number, to open a gospel mission. He hopes to have it open by next Tuesday.

American Aviator Makes
Most Wonderful Flight

MAKES A START AT PARIS

Continues Across English Channel
With Passenger Never in Aeroplane
Before and Successfully Lands on British Soil—Trip Made in Teeth of Strong Westerly Wind and Despite Warnings of People at Calais

Deal, Eng., Aug. 18.—It has been reserved for an American citizen to perform one of the most daring feats in the history of aviation.

John B. Moissant of Chicago flew across the English channel from Calais to Tilmanstone, with a passenger, and by this feat far surpassed the feats of Bleriot, De Lesseps and the unfortunate English aviator, Rollis, who later met his death at Bournemouth.

The two-man flight from France to England was the most astonishing, as it was only a month ago that Moissant learned to fly, and he had made so few flights and was so little known among air men that even his nationality was not disclosed.

He was reputed to be a Spaniard, and only when he landed in England yesterday was it revealed that he was a young architect from Chicago.

To make the feat more surprising Moissant was totally ignorant of the geography of his course. He had never seen in England, and was obliged to rely entirely on the compass, while the crossing of the channel was accomplished in the teeth of a strong westerly wind.

The channel flight was an incident in the aerial voyage from Paris to London. Moissant left Issy Tuesday in company with Hubert Latham, and reached Amiens in two hours. Latham's aeroplane was wrecked, and on Thursday Moissant, leaving Amiens, headed for Calais.

His mechanic, Albert Filleaux, who had accompanied him across the country, but who had never been in an aeroplane before, got into the machine with Moissant and the motor was set in motion for the dash across the channel.

Thousands who had gathered to watch the daring aviator were amazed, and urged him not to make the attempt in the half gale that was blowing.

Moissant cared nothing for the warnings of the people, and even the fact that there was no torpedo boat to follow in his wake, but only a slow-going tug, did not deter him. He made the trip in thirty-seven minutes.

When he descended his eyes were blinded and greatly inflamed, as a result of the heavy rainstorm into which they drove on approaching the English coast. The high wind beat the rain into the faces of the men like hail, and almost blinded them.

An average height of between 300 and 400 feet was maintained over the water. The aviator expected to land at Dover, but was forced by the wind a few miles north and made the coast near Deal.

The cold was intense and both Moissant and his mechanic were benumbed. Moissant seemed to take his monumental feat as though it were merely a daily occurrence.

Asked how he came to attempt such a flight as that from Paris to London Moissant said that the idea had been discussed in aviation circles in Paris and had been generally regarded as an impossibility. He scoffed at this notion and declared that not only would he attempt it himself, but he would also carry a passenger. He was surprised to hear that Latham had started on the flight, but determined to follow him in spite of Latham's big advantage.

Moissant is 35 years of age. He first visited Paris some months ago and became interested in the study of aviation. He had two machines built after his own designs, and found the subject so fascinating that he determined to become a practical airman.

His flight yesterday was made in a Bleriot machine, which weighs about 800 pounds. He himself weighs about 150 pounds and his mechanic 182, so that the total weight amounted to nearly 1150 pounds.

FERRYBOAT WRECKED

Explosion Causes Death of Six Persons and Injuries to Four

Corning, N. F., Aug. 18.—Six persons were killed and four injured by an explosion on a gasoline ferryboat plying between St. Georges and Sandy Point. The boat was wrecked.

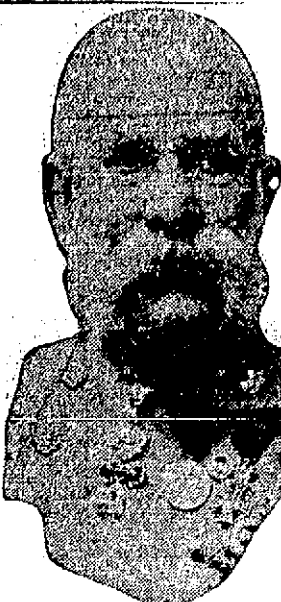

The roar of the explosion shook the bay and pieces of iron and woodwork were scattered in every direction.

The boat was a new one and had been on the route for only two months. The exact cause of the explosion has not yet been determined.

Their Respects on His Birthday

Vienne, Aug. 18.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is celebrating his eightieth birthday today.

The emperor expressly stipulated that there should be only a family festival, but all the numerous archdukes, archduchesses and other relatives who called to pay their respects to the head of the Hapsburg family made the celebration a memorable affair.

ACCOUNTS SHORT $36,752

Astonishing Result of Examination of Books of Sick Clerk

New York, Aug. 18.—Adolf Gabriel, bookkeeper for the Blatz Leather company, has been ill of typhoid for two weeks. During the time the officers of the company had an examination of his books made and the result was an attachment against him for $36,752.

Gabriel had charge of the finances of the New York office. The company had such confidence in him that no examination of his books was made in recent years, but when he fell sick it was discovered that he had filled in checks for amounts greater than were indicated by the stubs or by the cash book and converted the difference to his own use.

Between September, 1907, and July, 1910, it is alleged the amount missing is $36,752. His salary is said to have been $70 a week.

WOULD BE FIRST WOMAN POLICEMAN

Plans Many Costumes, Will Carry Gun and Guard Youth

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18.—"I shall be under the supervision of the chief of police, and his orders will govern my duties," said Mrs. Alice S. Wells, who would be Los Angeles' first woman policeman.

"I will have many costumes to be used for different occasions. I am not afraid of any one or anything, but I may find it necessary to carry a revolver and will always have a police whistle with me."

"My field of work will be chiefly wherever young people gather for entertainment, in parks, penny arcades, moving picture shows and in the dance halls, to see that laws are obeyed and the places kept clean and moral. I am not going in for a record on number of arrests, for I believe in the golden rule plan of keeping people out of jail by making them do the right thing."

SHIPPING IS PARALYZED

Government Yards Alone Are Doing
Any Work in Germany

Berlin, Aug. 18.—As a result of the fight between the German shipbuilders and their employees, all the shipyards of Germany, except the government works, are now idle so far as new construction is concerned. Naval construction assigned by the government to private yards is at a standstill, and shipowners are in many cases sending their ships to England for the necessary repairs naturally undertaken in home ports.

The men demand an increase of 10 percent in wages and a fifty-five hour week. The shipbuilders maintain that these economic demands are a cloak to political purposes and cannot be granted.

Newton to Search Crippen Cellar—London, Aug. 18.—Dr. H. H. Crippen gained a legal point when Arthur Newton, his solicitor, secured permission to make an independent medical examination of the cellar of the Crippen home, where the mutilated body declared to be Belle Elmore's was found buried in quicklime.

WHOLESALE DEALERS RECEIVE ULTIMATUM

Eggs Must Be Sold by Weight
In New York City

New York, Aug. 18.—"Eggs must be sold by weight. All that remains to be determined is how it can be done most conveniently and when the new order of things shall begin. If you think this is wrong, if you think there is no authority in the law for such an order, take it to the courts and let them decide."

This was in effect the ultimatum given by Commissioner Driscoll of the bureau of weights and measures, to fifty or more wholesale dealers in eggs who attended a hearing held by him in the matter at city hall.

HALF A MILLION IN WANT

Great Suffering in Tokio as Result of Disastrous Flood

Tokio, Aug. 18.—The extremity of suffering and destitution among more than half a million of people here is indescribable. The local relief funds are large, the resident foreigners assisting generously in the relief work and with money.

No casualties among foreigners are reported. Ambassador O'Brien has remained in Tokio throughout the floods, and is doing everything possible to assist the sufferers. All the visitors at the summer resorts are safe.

More than 1000 persons either killed or missing, nearly 4000 houses destroyed, and more than 150,000 houses damaged, and a loss to the rice crop estimated at $1,500,000, are the reports from the flood.

Mayor's Physicians Believe That He Will Completely Recover

New York, Aug. 18.—Mayor Gaynor is still further improved, and his physicians have now the strongest belief in his complete recovery. The temperature, pulse and respiration are practically normal and there are no indications of infection about the bullet wound.

It is now generally believed that the mayor will undergo an operation for the removal of the bullet just as soon as his physicians feel that he is strong enough. The operation will be simple, it is said, and will be attended by little danger, if any.

SHERMAN

VISITS TAFT

TO TALK OVER POLITICAL SITU-ATION—ROOSEVELT AFFAIR UP-SET HARMONY PLAN.

Beverly, Aug. 17.—Vice President Sherman arrived in Beverly shortly before noon today and proceeded at once to the executive offices, where he had a long conference with Sec. Norton, prior to going to Woodbury point to spend the afternoon with the President.

The selection of Mr. Sherman as temporary chairman for the New York convention and the defeat of Col. Roosevelt lent an added interest to the vice president's visit today. Mr. Sherman, however, wouldn't discuss the New York situation in any way. He indicated that there might be something to talk about after his interview with President Taft, but he doubted it.

Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio will be present at the conference between the President and vice president this afternoon. It is rather significant that Mr. Longworth, Col. Roosevelt's son-in-law, has been called into several conferences lately, both with the President and with Sec. Norton.

It has been announced, in connection with Mr. Sherman's visit, that he was coming to talk over plans for the coming congressional campaign. The events in New York yesterday put a different aspect upon the conference. It is known that President Taft has been hoping against hope that harmony could be brought about in New York prior to convention time.

The action of the state committee in voting down Col. Roosevelt, as temporary chairman, and the statement issued by the colonel indicating that it might be just as well for some members of that party that he was not to make the speech he had in mind, indicate that there is every prospect of a widened breach rather than an adjustment of party differences.

Representative Loudenslager of New Jersey was to have come to Beverly today, but was held in New York by illness.

Representative Morehead of North Carolina arrived shortly after Mr. Sherman has motored down from Boston.

News from the California primaries of yesterday was awaited with great interest in Beverly today. No comment was forthcoming, however, when word was received that Hiram Johnson, insurgent, had carried the state for the republican nomination for governor by approximately 50,000 pluralities.

Col. W. R. Nelson of Kansas City who in an interview here a few days ago, asserted that if Col. Roosevelt would run for President again he would sweep the country, motored through town today. Col. Nelson was asked:

"What do you think of Col. Roosevelt now, in view of yesterday's defeat. Do you still think he can 'come back'?"

"Not with those fellows down there," laughed Col. Nelson, as he speeded away.

FITZGERALD'S AMBITION

Boston, Aug. 17.—The Herald today publishes the following:

Mayor Fitzgerald came to Boston from his summer home at Falmouth Heights yesterday and expressed himself as pleased over the political situation in this state, believing that Democratic victory is inevitable, and incidentally that the people who have the interest of the Democratic party at heart, are willing to unite upon any candidate who can show sufficient strength.

That the mayor himself will be the Democratic candidate for governor he refused to deny yesterday, although called upon no less than three times to deny stories which have been persistently circulated that he will lead the Democrats this fall.

Many of his closest advisers, who believe that the Foss and Vahey wings of the party will not unite, say that the party candidate will not be chosen until the delegates convene at the state convention.

Then, these advisers say John F. Fitzgerald will enter the convention hall, plead for unity and harmony and stampede the convention to such an extent that the nomination will be forced upon him and he will be compelled to accept. With such a dramatic start the mayor's friends say that he can defeat Gov. Draper by a large majority.

PEOPLE TIRED OF STRIFE

The Herald has been a great admirer of Theodore Roosevelt and it sincerely regrets that he has allowed himself to be drawn into petty political squabbles. He has received the highest honors that could come to any man in the world and there is nothing more for him, and he should have continued to employ himself outside of politics. The country is all stirred up from one end to the other and the American citizen is being strangled, so to speak, because of all this political strife—for what? Simply so the men out of office can get in. The cause of high prices and the general unrest is the work of certain men who term themselves insurgents, and the Herald predicts, unless Roosevelt changes his course, that he will go the way of Dewey and other misguided heroes. The country is demanding safe and sane men and it is fortunate indeed that a man of that type is now at the head of the nation. It looks like a grave situation and it is time that some one called a halt.

CALL IN THE PUBLIC

Will some good citizen please inform the Herald of any good reason why the newspapers of the city should not be notified of the meetings of the Portsmouth Public Service Commission, and be invited to have their representatives present. The commission is a public body, and its actions interest the people who depend upon the newspapers for their news. It is not that newspaper men are excluded, but that the meetings are held without any notice to them, and they cannot give the public the reports of these meetings. For their news of these meetings the newspapers have to depend upon a chance interview with some member of the commission.

The city government and the board of education have their meetings made public. The public service commission, and all the other commissions and bodies having to do with the public business of the city ought to follow their examples.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS

After his rest in the Adirondacks, Mayor Gaynor can't do better than revisit Boston, the scene of his early professional life. He will find it much improved.—Boston Herald.

Better still, let him come to one of the Rockingham or York county seashore towns where the cooling breezes of the ocean, the beautiful scenery and the comforts of life will help him to regain his strength in this time of weakness.

Among the notable Old Home Day observances in New Hampshire this year will be that at Alstead on Aug. 25, when the chief ceremony will be the dedication of a handsome library building, given as an enduring memorial of his parents by Mr. John G. Shedd, president of the Marshall Field company of Chicago, and a native of this state, who has acquired riches and an enviable reputation by successful business methods in the West.

The New York papers tell us that a principal item in the hospital diet of Mayor William J. Gaynor is "juket." Now, what is "juket"?

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

They Mourn for Johnson

The Democrats of Minnesota have suffered a severe disappointment; their candidate for governor, ex-governor John Lind, reiterates his refusal to run. It looks as if Governor Eberhart would have an easy time defeating the candidate whom the Democratic state committee will now be called upon to substitute.—Providence Journal.

Who Gets the Ten Cents?

President Brown of the New York Central railway tells us that chickens which sell by the pound for fourteen cents in Iowa, bring twenty-five cents in the Eastern market, although the cost of rail transportation is only one-tenth of a cent.

Who gets the missing ten cents? And what service does he render for it? This is the chief problem, for, as it is with the chickens, so it is with nearly all the things we buy. There is a big mysterious leakage. Let our economic plumbers find it and stop it.

It is not an unreasonable suspicion that an outrageous and systematic hold-up takes place somewhere on the road between the producer and consumer. Here is the modern highwayman, whose methods and profits should cause even the ghosts of Turpin and Sheppard to blush.—Boston Globe.

CANDIDATE FOR COUNCILOR

Brentwood Man Wants Position for the Manchester District

Exeter, Aug. 18.—Arthur W. Dudley of Brentwood has filed declaration of his candidacy for the Republican councilor nomination for the second district, now represented by Dr. Henry W. Boutwell of Manchester. Mr. Dudley has been a representative in the legislature, but it is as a civil engineer, having been in charge of important enterprises in the district and state, that has given him the widest acquaintance. It has been the custom since the district was formed to alternate this nomination between Manchester and the towns. In accord therewith the nomination this year should go to the towns. The other candidates for this nomination are both Manchester men, Col. William Marcotte and Attorney Harry T. Lord.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Portsmouth Citizens Show the Certain Way Out

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes of any kind, any illness when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Portsmouth citizen says: "Mrs. Charles O. Hill, 34 Vaughan street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: 'A short time ago I was suddenly attacked with severe pains in my back and on this account I could hardly go up or down stairs. I at last saw Joan's Kidney Pills advertised as the best remedy to use in such cases and as my husband had previously taken them with good results, I decided to give them a trial. I procured a box at Philbrick's Drug Store and the result of their use was a complete cure. I have had no occasion to take a kidney remedy since that time.'

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Joan's—and take no other.

"Big Bill" Edwards of New York, Hero of Gaynor Shooting

Copyright by American Press Association.

The hero of the day when Mayor Gaynor of New York city was shot on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse on Aug. 9 was "Big Bill" Edwards, street cleaning commissioner of the metropolis. He was standing near the mayor when the shot was fired and without hesitation leaped at the throat of James J. Gallagher, the would-be assassin. With his great weight Edwards bore the struggling assailant to the deck and after subduing him lifted him to his feet and carried him to jail in an automobile. The picture shows Edwards with an arrow on his shoulder which points toward the hand of Gallagher. It was taken within a few minutes after the shooting by a staff photographer of the American Press Association.

A TIMELY TOPIC.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, In Success Magazine

Competition Gone Beyond Recall

Is there, in fact, anything else possible to us? We can not go back to the days of competition. I take it that as a nation we are unwilling to devote all our lives to the augmenting of a few swollen fortunes, even if there were not terrible and inevitable evils attendant upon such a condition. Yet, as the individual can no longer work for himself in the old way, is it not reasonably clear that he is next to working for himself by working for us all?

Is there anything else for us to do if we are not to fall into a state of industrial servitude? I put the question in no argumentative way. If any one that does me the honor to read these lines can suggest any other possible trend of evolution or any other outcome of business, I shall be glad to have it mentioned to me, for so far I have not heard of one nor heard of anybody that has heard.

Business above all, it is man's indispensable supply; but business for the good of the community, not for the pillaging of useless fortunes that embarrass as much as they degrade the possessors.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS

Sleepiness of Veteran Firemen
Editor Herald:—Permit me to inquire through the columns of your paper why the unusual quietness among our Veteran Firemen of late? Can it be possible that the defeat of June 17 at Boston took the sporting spirit from them? I hope not. The admirers of the veterans thought that when they secured the tub Eureka they would be up and doing every minute, but there seems to be a change and the association has gone to sleep. I hope the Franklin Pierce organization is not going to fade away like other handout crews that formerly existed and furnished much life in veteran firemen circles. Come, you gallant vets, wake up, start something and back up your motto, "Get Busy." F. J. H. Portsmouth, Aug. 18.

FARRAGUT HOUSE BASEBALL

South Berwick Team Was Beaten By 7 to 3 Wednesday

Though without the services of Heyniger of Princeton and Laidigan of Harvard, the Farragut house team had little difficulty in defeating So. Berwick, 7 to 3 on Wednesday afternoon on the Farragut house grounds. Pierce was batted out of the box in the first inning. Williams, who relieved him, pitched steady ball. The features of the game were the batting of Scott, the fielding of Lee, Barrall and Gile and the all around work of Renaud, who was unusually fast on the bases. The score:

ODD LADIES' PICNIC

A score of members of Star Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Ladies, picked up at Hampton Beach on Wednesday, and a good time is reported. The picnic was under the management of Mrs. Lattie Lydston.

SOCIALIST TICKET FOR THIS COUNTY

The county slate of the Socialist party is made up. Secretary Charles W. Greene will file a list of candidates with Secretary of State Edward N. Pearson.

F. A. Clay of Rockingham, Philip T. Lewis of Londonderry and William T. Lucas of this city will run for the county commission. A. B. Marden is the candidate for sheriff, and Robert Wilmont of Seabrook for county treasurer. The candidates for county solicitor, register of probate and register of deeds are in the hands of Socialists in Hampstead, Raymond and Derry awaiting their acceptance.

James Morgan will run for senator in the twenty-third district and George Hill of this city for senator in the twenty-fourth.

Asa Warren Drew, the candidate for governor, informed secretary Greene that he will stump the state.

Eugene V. Debs will have five instead of two days in this state. He will speak Sept. 6 in Manchester and the following day in Concord. Franklin wants Sept. 9 and Laconia the following day, leaving Sept. 8 the only choice for this city. As F. W. Hartford has booked Dan Ryan for Sept. 5 in Music Hall, and there is no other available hall, Secretary Greene is importuning Franklin to accept the 8th and give this city the following day.

YORK BEACH

The middle of August still finds the hotel registers and cottages well supplied with beach visitors. The larger hotels have been forced to turn away guests who have come unexpectedly. Trains arrive with eight and ten cars attached, while the Pullmans are also well filled.

Harold Haskell of Manchester spent a few days on Union Bluffs as the guest of Mrs. Edward H. Murphy of Manchester.

Mrs. Belle Woodley and daughter Edna of Manchester are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Greeley at their cottage on Union Bluffs.

The Misses Kate and Lizzie Holland of Manchester, Miss Maude Quill of Beverly and Frank Tynan of Waterown are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Holland of Manchester at their Point View cottage on Union Bluffs.

There will be an excursion from Raymond next Saturday, numbering over 300. A ball game between Raymond and York Beach aggregations and dancing at the Gay White Way will be the predominant features.

A Nashua party, composed of Hattie E. Farley, Lizzie G. Farley, Mrs. Horace B. Osgood and Orson Dexter and Miss Mary E. Trow, is registered at the Wainita.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Philbrick of Tilton are guests at the Fairmount for an extended stay.

G. E. Chesley, Miss N. S. Chesley and Mrs. C. C. Chesley of Concord are recuperating at the Fairmount.

Mrs. Charles D. Duran and daughter Katherine of Manchester are enjoying beach life at the Kearsarge.

Miss B. L. Bryant of Manchester is a guest at the Fairmount for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Wallace of Manchester are guests at the Fairmount for an extended visit.

Mrs. James Bartlett and daughter Edith of Claremont are summering at the Wainita.

Electric Sign advertising is no longer an experiment. The most successful firms of world-wide reputation as well as the stores with whom we have done business give us facts that prove the advertising worth of Electric Signs to be far in excess of any method of advertising that has ever been devised for the amount expended.

Look for the most enterprising city of today and you will find one that uses Electric Signs on all available locations and where merchants appreciate the advertising value and use light. I am making and selling the best signs that can be produced, not the cheapest, cut signs that will stand up and give service for years. Recent inventions have reduced the cost and also the cost of maintaining. Public spirit and civic pride demand well lighted business sections in our cities, why not do your part with a well lighted, artistic Electric Sign and increase your business as well.

I charge nothing for estimates or sketches and am always willing to explain details and serve your interests. Respectfully yours,

EVENTS OF ELIOT

Town Centennial Committee Met Again

our Picnics are Reported in two Days

Eliot, Me., Aug. 18.

The town centennial committee met at the library on Wednesday evening and tried to clean up the business affairs of the celebration. The treasurer had been called out of town, and one other member who had solicited some of the funds, was in quarantine, and the business was not completed. The most of the evening was devoted to receiving and accepting bills and reports, and at the close the gratifying announcement was made that the funds will be sufficient to cover all expenses. Mr. William L. Hobbs was elected assistant treasurer, to receive the money turned in at this meeting.

Selectman Alfred Spinney asked to be relieved from further service on the auditing committee and Selectman Charles B. Gale was chosen in his place. The other members are G. E. Hammond and J. L. Emery.

Votes of thanks were passed as follows: To the Green Acre fellowship for contributions to the centennial program, use of premises, and especially for the loan of the big tent for the exercises on the library grounds; to the Lander Camp, Dr. William Moore's camp and the East Eliot Industrial Club for their contributions to the centennial program; to George E. Howe, chief marshal of the centennial parade, for his services, and to make him a formal presentation of the marshal's badge; and to the press, especially the Portsmouth Herald.

As it is possible that the Green Acre fellowship may desire a new platform for the big tent, it was voted to present the one built for the centennial, and in case it is not desired, that the lumber be sold.

A cablegram from Dr. William Hale, author of the centennial poem, and Mrs. Hale, to Chairman J. L. M. Willis was read as follows: "A century of blessings to beautiful Eliot." They are travelling in Europe, and the message was by some means delayed so that it did not arrive in time to be read at the centennial exercises. The secretary was instructed to send a suitable reply.

Voted to buy copies of the group photograph of the centennial guests and committee for presentation to the guests, Ex-Governor John F. Hill, Governor Bert M. Fernald, Hon. Asher C. Hinds, and to the orator, Hon. James P. Baxter.

On motion of Dr. Henry I. Durgin the chairman was directed to appoint a committee for the planting of a centennial tree on the library grounds later in this year when the season is suitable for tree planting.

The sum of $25, the same as originally planned, was voted for the parade prizes.

Voted to instruct the chairman to appoint a committee to inquire into the feasibility of purchasing a centennial book.

Voted to purchase centennial pictures for presentation in the William Fogg library.

The committee members voiced their gratification over the success of the celebration, especially at the orderliness of the crowds. The events of the entire week were not marred by a single instance of intoxication or hoodlumism, a record hard to match.

Adjourned, to meet at the call of the chairman and secretary.

Mrs. Alonzo Titus entertained her Sunday school class of sixteen children with a lawn party and picnic at her home on Wednesday. A delightful time was had, and one little man assured the writer that "Mrs. Titus gave us four kinds of cake."

Seventeen were present at the family picnic Wednesday on the grounds at Charles E. Paul's in honor of the birthdays of their guests, Mrs. William Paul of Hackensack, N. H., aged 56, and Mrs. William A. Paul of Saugus, aged 61. Several nice presents were given to the two ladies and many hopes expressed that they may keep their present good health till past the century mark.

Mrs. Francis Lewis, Miss Flora Simpson and Miss Flora Briggs, who have been guests at Charles E. Paul's returned today to their homes in Biddeford.

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Kennard are expected home today from their wedding tour to Chicago and the great lakes.

There is a good attendance today at the York county picnic of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the grove below Rosebury. It is under the auspices of the Kittery local union.

The South Eliot Methodist report their picnic at Quamphogan park on Wednesday as a great success. The youngsters had so many sports that they were all tired and happy when home going time arrived.

Miss Ethel Mills of North Berwick is ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Moses D. Goodwin.

Their act is one of the best things that has been in this city for a long time and no one should fail to see it. Every one who has seen them have nothing but words of praise to speak of them. They are worth the double price of admission."

Henry Ford, the Manufacturer

Of this car needs no introduction. He has been the greatest factor in the development of the automobile industry, greater than any other man in the world, and has always stood for all that is best in automobile building—for quality of materials, for advanced ideas in practical engineering, and for common sense, durable, efficient construction. This has been the position held by Mr. Ford for so many years that just the imprint Ford, on a car has acquired a value equivalent to the name Sterling on silver. Each is a guaranty of genuine merit.

Look At This Car

The Ford model T Car is the latest successful product of this successful manufacturer. It is a five passenger car. It is a comfortable car. From the viewpoint of artistic design, it is a handsome car. Best of all it is a Ford. Fifteen thousand cars of this model sold prior to January 1, 1910 proved its genuine merit. The Car has made good on all the hills between the Atlantic and the Pacific—it has won out in all the sand from Florida to Washington. It has thoroughly demonstrated its worth over all sorts of conditions of roads in all seasons of the year. Get a demonstration. While you ride in it let the car prove its goodness.

The inside drive Ford Coupe, built on this same chassis, has proven a most acceptable car for Doctors, and business men who prefer the closed to the open type of car.

CLAIMED SULLOWAY WAS INCONSISTENT

Burroughs at Pittsfield Rally Discusses Forest Preservation.

Pittsfield, N. H., Aug. 18.—Speaking tonight before a large and representative audience, in the local opera house, Sherman E. Burroughs of Manchester, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the First district, delivered an eloquent address in which he discussed great National issues, paying especial attention to the bill for the Preservation of the White Mountain forests. He commented upon the position of Congressman Sulloway in regard to this measure, and declared that Mr. Sulloway appears to be highly inconsistent. In fact he declared that he is trying to ride two horses at the same time.

Upon his arrival yesterday afternoon, Mr. Burroughs was met by a large delegation of prominent business men and held an informal reception at the Washington house. The opera house was packed at the rally last night, and Edward A. Lane, one of Pittsfield's leading citizens, presided.

Mr. Burroughs said in his speech in part:

Mr. Sulloway's position on the White Mountain forest reserve bill appears to be anything but consistent. He is apparently trying to ride two horses at the same time. In an authorized interview in the Manchester Mirror, about a month ago in speaking of the work of the session of congress, just closed, he is quoted as having said, among other things:

"In addition to the list of the important laws enacted, it should be remembered that the house also passed the forest reserve bill, which includes White Mountain reservation and that the senate has agreed to a date for a vote on the same in the coming short session next winter. This proposition is of great and vital interest to the people of New Hampshire, and the outcome in the House ought to be most gratifying to the voters of the state."

Now, I submit that any reasonable man in reading the above statement by Mr. Sulloway would naturally infer that he was himself in favor of this bill. He says that "it is of great and vital interest to the people of New Hampshire," and he says that "the outcome in the house ought to be most gratifying to the voters of the state." If this language does not mean that Mr. Sulloway is himself friendly to this legislation, I confess I am unable to attach any meaning at all. But now listen to what Mr. Sulloway said less than a year ago at Canobie lake at a meeting of the Rockingham county republican club. This meeting was held Aug. 28, 1909, and a full and detailed report of the meeting and the addresses of the speakers was given under large headlines in the Manchester Union of the following day. Mr. Sulloway made one of the principal addresses at this meeting. In the general introduction to the story covering these addresses Mr. Sulloway is said to have characterized himself as "an extreme high tariff advocate and as such took direct issue with President Taft and denounced the new tariff law. He eulogized Speaker Cannon and upheld his action in preventing the passage of the Appalachian forest reserve bill."

In the course of his address Mr. Sulloway is reported to have said, "Speaker Cannon is one of the grandest men in the history of the country. He has been abused for opposing the forestry reserve bill. That bill was all moonshine. I voted for it, but expected it would be killed. No person in this audience ever saw a blue print of intelligent forestry plan in New England. I stand with Mr. Cannon in this question. I heard him say to the Governor of New Hampshire, 'I don't care for an appropriation of $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 for your state, but I want to see the government get something for its money.' This bill is an opening wedge for the purchase of waste lands throughout the entire Appalachian system." How does this "sound to you? The bill is all 'moonshine.' He voted for it but 'expected it would be killed.' He 'stands with Speaker Cannon on this question,' and Speaker Cannon is opposed to the bill and gives his reasons to the Governor of New Hampshire why he is opposed to the bill. Mr. Sulloway says he stands with Speaker Cannon on this question.

This statement of opposition to this bill was made less than one year ago. Within a month, however, and since Mr. Sulloway has returned to New Hampshire, after the adjournment of congress, he has made the statement I have quoted in which he says that "this proposition is of great and vital interest to the people of New Hampshire and the outcome in the house ought to be most gratifying to the people of the state." Can it be that Mr. Sulloway is beginning to realize that an election is approaching? This White Mountain reserve bill is indeed of "vital interest to the people of New Hampshire." It is doubtless of as great, if not greater, interest to the people of New Hampshire than any other state in the Union. The committee on Agriculture of the house of representatives, to which this bill was referred, in their report to the last congress (Report No. 1080) under date of April 1, 1910, says, among other things:

"The object sought in this bill appeal to every American on grounds of broadest and most unselfish patriotism. It is the first step in the direction and fundamental to the great movement for the conservation of our natural resources, which is the vital point around which the constructive thought and statesmanship of the present are building for the future. It is the most practical and immediately necessary of the conservation measures that have been proposed, and was strongly pointed out to be such by President Roosevelt in enunciating the conservation policy. It seeks to conserve one of the richest of our national assets from serious impairment if not destruction, namely our navigable waterways. Your Committee believe that there is no more important matter before your body than in this report. It involves the agricultural, industrial, commercial feature of the sections to which it is most immediately directed. Its favorable consideration is urged by as large a number of organizations—business, scientific and civic—as ever gave support to any proposition pending before us. No organization of any kind, no committee, legislative or otherwise, has ever acted otherwise than favorably upon the principles involved in this bill. Three presidents, McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft, have been its outspoken advocates. The almost unanimous sentiment of the progressive citizens demands, favorable action upon it at our hands. Further delay cannot be justified in view of the facts in possession of your committee; they warrant immediate action. The country expects it."

The above is the view of a majority of the committee on Agriculture which reported the bill into the present house. It is true that a minority of this same committee was opposed to the bill and filed a minority report. In this connection, it is interesting to note that Representative Scott, of Kansas, chairman of the committee, signed the minority report against this bill. He has recently come before the voters for re-nomination and his friend Cannon went out there to support him. The result was that Scott was beaten and buried out of sight by the voters in his own district. I am bold enough to assert that Mr. Sulloway is at heart opposed to this great New Hampshire project. In spite of his 11th hour conversion, as the election approaches, I say that he has never really supported this bill, either in Congress or out of Congress. So far as the record shows, he has spoken just two words in its favor, or rather to be exact about it, he has spoken one word twice in its favor. On two occasions, when the roll has been called on the passage of the bill in the house he has said "Yes," that is all.

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT Tooth Powder

What would you think of your attorney defending you in court in such a manner as this? This bill appears to be in grave danger of defeat at the coming short session of congress. Mr. Ayers, our former state forester, in a recent address at Betton Woods says that he has followed the progress of this bill from the beginning and has been to Washington in its behalf several times. He thinks there is little prospect of its becoming a law this winter. The date set for a vote in the Senate is February 13, just about two weeks before the close of the session. Strong opposition to the bill has developed in the senate, strong enough, it is feared, if not to defeat, at least to amend the bill. Any amendment would probably throw the bill into conference where it would die a natural death; that would mean that the friends of the bill would be obliged to begin all over again in the next Congress as they have done so many times. It looks to me as though to use a slang phrase, it was pretty nearly "up to" the voters of New Hampshire to say whether they want this bill passed or not. If they don't care anything about it, if they are indifferent to the future of their great industries and the preservation of navigation on their great rivers, and the preservation of the scenic beauties of their grand old mountains, then let them continue to send men to congress who may say, "I voted for the bill, but expected it would be killed." If on the other hand our voters believe this bill to be in fact "of great and vital interest to the people of New Hampshire, why should they not send to the next congress somebody who will take an active interest in it. How can New Hampshire expect the representatives of other states to fight her battles for her? If our own representatives care nothing for the bill, with what earnestness and enthusiasm are they going to work for its passage. Why, let me ask you, should this great measure which does indeed affect New Hampshire more directly and more vitally than any other New England state bear the name of a representative of Massachusetts? New Hampshire has reason to be grateful to Representative Weeks of Massachusetts for his splendid service in behalf of the preservation of our forests and rivers. It was he who drafted this bill, and he it is, who has fought for it most vigorously and earnestly in committee and on the floor of the house when the member from the First district, Mr. Sulloway, was simply voting for it and "expecting it would be killed."

THOUGHT THE STREET NUMBERS WERE DISEASE TAGS

The small tags with the new street numbers, that are attached to the buildings, led a lady, who was visiting this city, to think that there was an epidemic in this city. She came here with her children for a visit and soon after she got to her friends' house said that she did not believe that she would unpack, on account of the epidemic that was "prevaling about the city, and inquired what the disease was, for, said she: "It must be terrible, for I see every house is placarded." An explanation followed, and when informed that the disease was nothing but new street numbers, she was greatly relieved.

CLUB SOCIAL

BIG CROWD AND JOLLY GOOD TIME AT COUNTRY CLUB.

The social at the Country club on Wednesday was one of the most enjoyable as well as the largest attended of any held so far this season. It was in charge of Miss Helen Newell and Mrs. Ira A. Newick, and they made ideal hostesses.

There was a big crowd present during the afternoon the club house was crowded and every one of the tennis courts were busy and a large number playing golf.

From three till five o'clock bridge whist and five hundred were played on the verandas of the club house and the bridge prize was won by Mrs. Harry Harding and the second by Miss Anna M. Varrell.

The five hundred prize was captured by Miss Florence Jewett.

Before supper, two events for the young people were run off. The potato race for girls was won by Miss Florence Ward, and the boys', by Wilfred Hewitt.

The peanut scramble was won by Miss Louise Haisdell and John Pickering.

At six o'clock supper was served, basket lunches being in order with coffee and ice cream served by the club. There were over a hundred at supper and a good many more came out on the later cars and in automobiles.

The evening events were for the older people, and the prize waltz was the first, and this was won after a lively contest by Miss Mildred Goldsmith and Mr. Lawrence Wright.

The shoot match was interesting, and Mrs. James A. Bacheider had the best score and took first prize, and E. M. Fisher, the second prize.

During the evening there was dancing, for which Harold Hett furnished music, and the crowd remained until eleven o'clock.

The hostesses for August 31 will be Mrs. W. A. Partington and Mrs. E. B. Eastman.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs--

TIZ Cured Her Quick

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

AMERICAN BOATS

WON FIRST RACE

Spanish Boats No Match in Sonder Class Race.

Marblehead, Aug. 18.—The American boats beat the Spanish yachts so decisively yesterday in the first race of their own which proved the best series ever seen in a sonder series here.

The Harpoon, owned by C. F. Adams 2d, led at the line, 12 seconds ahead of the Beaver, owned by C. H. W. Foster, and the Cima, owned by Guy Lowell, was only two seconds astern of the Harpoon.

The Harpoon immediately reported that she fouled the flag on the last turning mark, which, under the rules is a disqualification. The Spanish yachts were always astern and proved no match for the Americans.

The official elapsed times follow:

Harpoon	2:03:34
Beaver	2:03:45
Cima	2:03:48
Chonta	2:11:59
Papoose	2:16:27
Mosquito II	2:21:54

The race was sailed in an eight to ten knot northeaster, with some sea. The umpires took the Harpoon's statement under advisement, and said that they would announce their decision later.

Story of the Race.

Spain and America met today in the first of a series of five races for the sonder yacht supremacy of the North Atlantic for 1910.

It was the first time that the two countries have engaged in the ancient pastime on this side of the Atlantic and each was represented by a team of three yachts based on the German type of boat which has proved so popular at Kiel and Marblehead during the past four years.

The Spanish team was made up of the Chonta, the Papoose and Mosquito II, while the three defenders of the President Taft, and Gov. Draper cups, which are the principal trophies for this year's racing, were the Beaver, Cima and Harpoon. According to the conditions of the international sonder yacht rules the yachts were built in the country which they represented and manned entirely by corinthian crews.

The skippers were Luis de Araua on the Chonta, Javier Pena on the Papoose, Manuel Corral on the Mosquito II, C. H. W. Foster on the Beaver, Guy Lowell on the Cima and C. F. Adams 2d on the Harpoon. With the exception of the Papoose and Mosquito II, the yachts were sailed by their owners.

Yesterday's race was the first of a series of five and perhaps six contests the President Taft cup going to the yacht first winning three races, while the Gov. Draper cup will be awarded on points. The Eastern yacht club, which has joint control over this year's international races with the federation of Spanish yacht clubs, also offers first and second prizes for the contests at Marblehead this year are sort of a return for the Cup which the American sonder yachtsmen paid in Spain on their return from Germany in 1907.

While the best of feeling prevailed between the yachtsmen, and good sport is the aim of each side, the Yankee tars are rather anxious to retrieve the defeat in Spain three years ago for the queen's cup, although several minor trophies were brought back after the races at Bilbao and San Sebastian.

Conditions Favor Quick Races.

The Spanish yachts were the first to hoist sail, and an hour and a half before the start at 11 they were well outside, trying the wind and sea.

If the theory regarding the Spanish boats is correct early conditions today seemed to favor the foreigners. The breeze was scarcely over six or seven miles an hour and there was a decided stop of a sea running, both of which were regarded as favorable to the heavy, narrow type of boat.

The American boats followed half an hour after the Spaniards, then came the committee tug Orion, flying the Spaniards' pennant, as well as the pennant of the Eastern yacht club. Three revenue cutters steamed after them, followed by a score of sailing yachts, making up the spectator fleet.

The air was very clear and conditions seemed to favor a quick race.

Start Made at 11.10.

The committee set signals for a triangular course, and at 11 a. m. the preparatory whistle was blown. The breeze had increased to nine knots an hour, and there was more sea on.

The start was made at 11.10. Thirty seconds before this the Harpoon were around to the eastward of the starting flag, and ran for the line with the Beaver on her weather quarter, closely followed by the Cima. The Spaniards were slower in getting to the line.

Honors were even between the Harpoon and the Beaver in the fight for position at the line, with the Cima close astern. The Chonta beat out the other Spanish boats, but was 20 seconds behind the starting signal, while the Papoose was 40 seconds behind and the Mosquito II 50 seconds.

Americans Take Early Lead.

The first leg was a two-mile beat to windward. It was soon seen that the Chonta was making an excellent race and pulling up on the American boats. At 11.20 the Beaver had slipped in ahead of the Harpoon, and the Chonta was drawing away from the other Spaniards. The American boats were sailing in one division and the Spaniards in another.

At 11.30 the Americans seemed to be leading their rivals by nearly a quarter of a mile.

Cima Wins First Round.

The Beaver and the Harpoon fought hard for the lead, and at the first mark the Beaver was barely 20 seconds ahead of the Harpoon and 54 seconds ahead of the Cima. The Chonta was a fairly close fourth, while the other Spanish boats were far behind. The times at the first mark follow:

Beaver	11:36:37
Harpoon	11:36:57
Cima	11:37:31
Chonta	11:38:56
Papoose	11:42:25
Mosquito II	11:43:33

It was a matter of interest to many to know that plans for the conducting of a Tuberculosis class in this city has been completed. Two rooms, reception room and examination room, have been prepared in the Sherburne house, Christian Shore, entrance at Dennett and Newton streets. These rooms have been placed at the disposal of all the physicians in good standing and patients may be admitted by them to the class, subject to its rules and regulations. The hours of the class are on Wednesday, from ten a. m. to one p. m. It is hoped that this modest venture may be productive of much good in bringing to sufferers from this dread disease, justly called the "White Plague" the simple yet effective methods of modern, up-to-date treatment. Physicians will be in attendance at the hours of the class to give the instructions.

drew still further away from the Spaniards. The times at the second mark were:

Beaver	11:54:07
Harpoon	11:54:19
Cima	11:54:39
Chonta	11:58:49
Papoose	12:00:21
Mosquito II	12:02:35

The third leg was a broad reach on the starboard tack. The Beaver drew the Harpoon into a luffing match so far to the windward that the Cima swept in ahead and was in the lead at the end of the first round of the course. The times at the end of the first round were:

Cima	12:08:35
Beaver	12:08:54
Harpoon	12:09:01
Chonta	12:11:44
Papoose	12:16:08
Mosquito II	12:18:41

The yachts immediately started on the second beat to windward on the second time around the course, with the Cima in the lead, and it was a reputation of the first with the American boats always far in the lead.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

All Next Week.

No letter or stronger acting company could possibly be assembled than appears in the support of Miss Helen Grayce who fills an engagement at Music Hall of next week. The roster includes such well known and popular artists as Lawrence Brooks, Edward Abbey, J. Sydney Macey, Lawrence Leewood, Graham Valsey, C. A. Boyd, W. Tello Webb and Charlotte Downing, Bert Miller and June Rogers. The plays for the week include, When Knighthood was in Flower Monday, The Man of the Hour, The Squaw, Three Weeks, The Clandestine, Little Brother of the Rich, The Cowboy and the Lady, and others equally as well known. Each play will be perfectly staged; in a word, theatregoers are given an opportunity of witnessing $150 productions, headed by a star capable of adorning any metropolitan stage, at one-third the regular price invariably set for the same plays.

Keith's Theatre, Boston.

Rose Pitonof, the 15 years old girl who by her swim to Boston light performed a feat that baffled the strongest men swimmers for the past 25 years, has proved to be one of the greatest attractions Keith's has had in a long time, and the entire week the house has been jammed by admirers of the plucky little girl and she has received an ovation at every performance. It is doubtful whether Miss Pitonof's feat will be duplicated, as since she has tried many others have attempted to make the swim and failed. At Keith's in the handsomest stage setting that famous house has ever provided, Miss Pitonof is giving a remarkable exhibition of swimming and diving, a most interesting feature of it being the demonstration of the new famous "Pitonof Kick" which she used during her entire swim.

Another feature of the bill this week will be Charles Miller, one of the most popular leading men that has ever appeared in stock companies in Boston. Mr. Miller will give a monologue that has met with great success on his recent trip through the west. Another big feature will be the first production here of Joseph Hart's new play called "The Little Stranger," which was originally presented at Lamb's Gambol in New York and is said to be even better than "Dinkelspiel's Christmas." Others are Alf Grant and Ethel Hoag; Primrose Quartette, Mr. and Mrs. Esmond in a sketch, and the Wood Brothers, famous Irish athletes.

WARD CLERKS

Must be Nominated at Regular Party Caucuses.

Hon. Edward N. Pearson, secretary of state, has settled the middle growing out of the failure of the primary law to provide for the nomination of ward clerks and selectmen, by deciding that the primary law does not apply to ward and town officers except to supervisors and moderators, and that candidates for the positions of ward clerks and selectmen must be nominated in the usual way at party caucuses.

Mr. Pearson has also decided that the old rule of attaching the names of candidates to the official election ballots will prevail. The candidates for selectmen and ward clerks having been nominated at least fourteen days prior to the election, as required by the law, the names of the party candidates so nominated must be forwarded to Secretary Pearson and he will have them inscribed upon the ballot.

The complication as to ward clerks first arose in Concord when it was discovered that while the new city

READY TO LEAVE AT ANY TIME

DR. CRIPPEN AND GIRL MAY LEAVE TODAY FOR ENGLAND.

Quebec, Que., Aug. 18.—Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve are ready to leave for England on an hour's notice. Yesterday Jailer Morin brought Crippen a cheap imitation leather bag to hold the underwear and a few small articles needed on the trip. He also purchased at the dentist's request three second-hand novels, which Crippen expects to read on the way over.

The property found in the cabin of the Montrose, when the pair were arrested, has been packed in the big valises they used in common, and the jewelry discovered on Crippen has been sealed in a big envelope. The contents of both valises and envelope will be introduced as evidence at the trial.

The jewelry is particularly important, since it is supposed to have belonged to the accused man's wife, the missing Belle Elmore. It has been valued at $300. Miss Leneve will take her few personal effects away in a paper parcel. The boy's clothes she wore aboard the Montrose are in the sealed valise.

Because Inspector Dew has expressed keen anxiety to protect his prisoners from public notice, the local police believe he may take them back on the steamer Lake Manitoba, due to sail from here this afternoon. This is a small, slow boat, carrying few passengers.

NEED OF FOREST PRESERVATION

MERRIMACK RIVER FACING A DROUTH—LOWEST FOR MANY YEARS.

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 18.—At the offices of the Locks and Canals Company here it was given out yesterday that there is grave danger of a serious drouth this fall in the Merrimack river, on the waters of which millions of textile spindles still partially depend for their motive power.

Lake Winnipiseogee, the seventy-one square mile reservoir for the river is lower than on any record ever kept. When the lake is full it measures on the locks and canals scale at forty-four inches. On August 1 last it measured only ten and three-fourths inches. Since August 1 it has lost nearly two inches more.

A 1890 record shows 26 inches; 1887, 28 inches; 1883 very dry year, 22 inches; 1906, 41 inches; 1907, 20 inches; 1908, 37 inches; and 1909 34 inches. These records are for the date of August 1 of each year and compare for the record for this year of ten and three fourths inches.

The present condition is not reached in the late fall of dry years. The Locks and Canals Company attributes the situation to the two dry years of 1908 and 1909 and the lack of sufficient snow last spring to offset this. The lack of water is now expected to cause considerable inconvenience to the manufacturing cities along the river.

Lake Winnipiseogee is already discommoded by the low water the steamers finding rocks they never knew existed and the cottagers being able to make regular landings with their boats.

WARD CLERKS

Must be Nominated at Regular Party Caucuses.

Hon. Edward N. Pearson, secretary of state, has settled the middle growing out of the failure of the primary law to provide for the nomination of ward clerks and selectmen, by deciding that the primary law does not apply to ward and town officers except to supervisors and moderators, and that candidates for the positions of ward clerks and selectmen must be nominated in the usual way at party caucuses.

Mr. Pearson has also decided that the old rule of attaching the names of candidates to the official election ballots will prevail. The candidates for selectmen and ward clerks having been nominated at least fourteen days prior to the election, as required by the law, the names of the party candidates so nominated must be forwarded to Secretary Pearson and he will have them inscribed upon the ballot.

The complication as to ward clerks first arose in Concord when it was discovered that while the new city charter provided for a continuation of such officials, the direct primary law, which was enacted some time after the charter, made no provision for their nomination.

The question raised in this case was referred to Attorney General Eastman, and pending his decision the same question was raised in Portsmouth, as well as in Manchester, Nashua and other places affected by the apparent lack in the primary law; and it was in response to the query from Portsmouth as to what the parties should do in the premises that Mr. Pearson gave the decision quoted above.

HAND BURNED

Isaac Gillis Has Narrow Escape from a Bad Accident.

Isaac Gillis, the well-known chef at Hodgdon and Kershaw's, had his left hand badly burned on Wednesday forenoon. He was lifting a kettle of hot fat off the stove when it struck something and was upset, the greater part striking him on the left hand. The stuff burned horribly, and Mr. Gillis was taken to a physician. By some good fortune the burns on his hand and wrist were not bad, but two fingers are badly burned.

BOSTON WOOL

DISTRICT FIRE

Boston, Aug. 18.—Fire in the wool district early today destroyed the five-story wool storage warehouse of Crimmins & Herce, Nos. 175 to 183 Congress street, and caused a loss of $100,000. Four alarms were sounded and all the fire fighting force in the heart of the city was engaged in combatting the flames. The building was packed on every floor with bales of wool, making the blaze a difficult one to attack. Hot air explosions drove the firemen back time and again, and in one of these, just as the second floor fell with hundreds of bags of wool, Captain William Riley and his crew of Engine 4 had a narrow escape from being carried down to death.
For the first time since its institution, twenty years ago, the salt water service from the harbor was utilized, the fireboat from Central wharf pumping mounds of water to a water tower, whence connection and monitor nozzled hose wagons stationed on Congress street opposite the burning structure.

POLICE COURT

John F. The case against Arthur Harding for drunkenness was placed on file.

CHASE FOR CAPSALAKOS

Somerset, Aug. 18.—Search for Nicholas Capsalakos, the young Greek weaver, charged with the murder of his aunt, whose body was found in an ash barrel, just a week ago today, centers about Biddeford, Me., where the police believe the young man is hiding, sheltered by fellow countrymen.
Nicholas Kallis, for love of whom the murdered woman is believed to have incurred the jealous hate of her nephew, is still missing from his home at Old Orchard, and all efforts of the police to find him and from the story he might tell, to glean something from him that would aid them in the solution of the murder mystery have proved fruitless.
The police trail led to Waterville, Me., but no trace was found of the fugitive. Capsalakos is a fancy weaver, one of the best ever employed in the cotton mills, and manufacturers all over New England have been asked by the police to look out for him in case he applies for work.
Today the police learned that the man instead of having the sallow complexion of the ordinary Greek has a skin as white as a native born. Because of this and because the description sent out referred to him as a Greek the police believe that he may have averted suspicion by being taken for an American.
It was learned today that Capsalakos purchased a revolver at the hardware store of Frank A. Harvey on Market street, just the day before the murder. The body of the murdered woman showed no bullet wounds, however. She was choked to death. But that circumstance of the purchase of the revolver, coupled with the threats of the young Greek against his aunt, leads to the belief that he intended to end his aunt's life with the revolver, but instead in a fit of rage choked her to death.

A PLEASED VISITOR

making her first visit in Portsmouth where she has been the past ten days, a guest at the National hotel. She is very enthusiastic over the many delightful resorts in this vicinity, the Farragut, and places of interest among them being Hotel Wentworth, the Farragut, and places of interest in Kittery. She has enjoyed every hour of the time passed in carriage driving, motoring, trolley riding and bathing.
A few days ago, she and a party of friends, guided by Capt. D. C. Langland, manager of the National hotel, made a trip to Stratham Hill. Miss Hurley is so favorably impressed with Portsmouth and its surroundings that, although it is necessary for her to leave for Boston on Saturday, she intends to return later with friends whom she hopes, will enjoy our city, as she does.

SELLING EGGS BY WEIGHT

New York, Aug. 18.—Commissioner Driscoll of the bureau of weights and measures gave a hearing on the proposition to sell eggs by weight. He said the law required such selling, and that it was his intention to enforce the law. About forty wholesale dealers were on hand to protest. They presented a memorial in writing, in which it was set forth that the weighing out of eggs would be impracticable and "enormously expensive," so far as receivers of eggs from the field were concerned, and that the cost would have to be borne by the consumer.

MORE ORDERS ON TOLL BRIDGES

Night Collector to Be Appointed and Recording System to Be Adopted

Following the recent advance in rates of passage on the toll bridges controlled by the bridge companies will be other plans soon to be put in operation.

On the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge there will be no more free passages after certain hours of the night, as a night toll collector will be stationed at the Noble's Island gate and the collections will be made the same as during the day. It is also understood that a register will be placed at all collecting points and the tolls will be rung in in the same manner as that of the electric car system.
At Dover Point, the toll house so long situated midway of the bridge will be moved to the Newington end of the structure where day and night collections will be made in the future.
